

Montrose Daily Press, Volume XVI, Number 129, February 18, 1925  — Elsie Benedict Writes Letters of World Tour [ARTICLE]

◀Back to search result list

Elsie Benedict Writes Letters of World Tour

The Press has received copies of Elsie Lincoln Benedict's around the world tour letters. The first two of the series are at hand. They are printed on the finest kind of paper, in first class style eight pages each, with one page of illustrations showing Elsie photographed in front of some historic monument or noted bit of scenery.

The first one, dated Edinburgh, Scotland, is addressed "Dear Everybody." It describes her trip thru Scotland, England and various points of interest in three pages. Then comes a letter from The Hague which includes Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland. The third is from Venice and tells of Italy.

The second series starts with a letter dated Interlakem, Switzerland. The next Berlin; the next Paris is written in a very pleasing style. She says "The letters are much longer than I promised, but I couldn't stop."

Mrs. Benedict has made wonderful progress since leaving Montrose. She has made a lot of money in her courses of instruction, lectures, books, etc, telling people how to succeed. Great crowds swarmed to hear her for weeks in Los Angeles and it was after the conclusion of her work there that she started on this world tour. She is remembering many of her friends with copies of these beautiful printed reports.

Montrose has reason to be proud of her for she has developed from a poor, uneducated, unpromising girl into a woman of charming personality and has been able to capitalize her wonderful charm and talents into what is commonly known as success with a capital S.